About Us

The Sustainable Living Association is a Northern Colorado nonprofit dedicated to connecting people, communities, and organizations to practical climate solutions through education, collaboration, and action. As the lead organizer of the Weld Youth Environmental Leadership Summit, the Sustainable Living Association's goal is to create an inspiring and impactful experience that equips youth with the knowledge, skills, and confidence to become future environmental leaders.

Our Partners

University of Northern Colorado is a valued partner and host site for the Weld Youth Environmental Leadership Summit. By hosting the Summit, UNC provides students with the opportunity to experience a university environment while connecting with faculty, college students, researchers, and professionals working in sustainability and environmental fields. The partnership helps expose youth to higher education pathways and career opportunities that support a more sustainable future.

Greeley-Evans School District 6 serves a diverse and vibrant student population and is deeply committed to student leadership, educational equity, and preparing young people for future success. District 6 plays a critical role in engaging and supporting student participation in the Weld Youth Environmental Leadership Summit. The Summit provides students with hands-on experiences and real-world connections that complement classroom learning and inspire action within their schools and communities.

Only 9% of young people are very confident the world will act quickly enough to address climate change.

About our Youth Summits

Making an Impact

The Youth Environmental Series is a signature initiative of SLA designed to guide and inspire young people to engage deeply with climate science, develop actionable sustainability practices, and drive equitable solutions.

Designed to inspire and educate, this series provides youth with the knowledge, tools, and skills they need to address environmental challenges and take meaningful action in their communities.

WeldYouth Environmental Summit 2026

A comprehensive summit for Weld County students providing youth with climate leadership training, career exploration in sustainable industries, and networking opportunities with educators and companies committed to sustainability.

---
